

Census 2000: Don't Be Missed!

1. Look for It.

Your Census 2000 questionnaire should arrive at your home in late March. If you do not receive a questionnaire, additional forms will be available in public places.

2. Fill It Out.

If you need help filling out the questionnaire, go to the Questionnaire Assistance Center in your neighborhood, or call the toll-free telephone number printed on the form. The Census Bureau's multilingual staff will assist you. You also can find information about Census 2000 on the Internet: www.census.gov.

3. Send It Back.

The Census Bureau will provide a postage-paid envelope for your convenience. If you are interviewed by a census taker, that person will be sure your answers are processed. Your answers are protected by law.

This is your future.
Don't leave it blank.
Answering the census helps communities obtain state and federal funding and valuable information for planning.
